Sigmund Freud and a Side of Grits—An American Breakfast Tale

by Kim Amboy

Skillfully navigating through a noisy greasy spoon, a food laden girl approaches your table. “Here’s your order,” she announces and carefully sets a steaming plate before you. She offers, “How about a warmup on that coffee?” After topping off your cup, she hurries off to another table, leaving you to stare with anticipation at the meal before you...classic American breakfast: two eggs, bacon, toast, and a side of hashbrowns. Most of the other diners are enjoying the same entrees. How come? Why do Americans love bacon and eggs so much? An interesting discussion I recently had with a relative reveals the answer.

My relative wove a tale for me of a man named

Edward Bernays, who, in the 1920’s, found himself in the advertising employ of the Beech-Nut Packing Company, the country’s largest bacon producer. Sales were falling off because city people were doing less physically demanding work and were becoming more weight conscious, thus putting the traditional farm breakfast of meat and eggs out of vogue. Typical breakfasts of his day consisted of a piece of toast, orange juice, and a cup of coffee. He sweetened the plot by adding this tidbit: Mr. Bernays happened to be the nephew of none other than famous psychoanalyst, Sigmund Freud.

Bernays hired a well-known physician to ask hundreds of doctors whether a light breakfast or a heavy breakfast was better. Most of the doctors gave confirmation that heavy breakfasts were superior for better health. Using some of his uncle's psychological approach, he released this "scientific" data to the newspapers, and within six months, Beech-Nut's sales boomed! The classic American breakfast returned, this time for good!

While some of you may never look at another breakfast plate the same, nothing will alter the fact that traditional American breakfast food is the most popular thing we eat. Restaurants that serve breakfast all day hold a special place in the hearts of American diners and break traditional rules by offering it at any hour, whenever the craving strikes. Personally, I order eggs benedict with extra hollandaise ANYTIME I find it on the menu (I'm incurably addicted). In your personal quest for a traditional breakfast in a nostalgic setting, try Westwood Fountain 5823 Patterson Ave. Richmond.

Finally, this breakfast discussion would not be complete if I did not mention Brunch. Enjoying a good brunch with friends turns into a nice blend of morning favorites, social time, and relaxation a little later than the crack of dawn. For excellent brunch and cocktails, try First Watch (several locations in the Richmond area).

Love Sweet Love

by Steve Cook

Chocolate and Love – those two words go together so beautifully. Why do you suppose that is?

According to the website TotallyChocolate.com, chocolate isn't just a symbol of love—it chemically mimics the feelings of romance. The website goes on to throw around such lovely words as phenylethylamine, theobromine, and endorphin release, but try whispering those sweet nothings into your true love's ear and see where that gets you.

I'd rather talk about romantic restaurants in the area and the romantic chocolate desserts that can warm the coldest cockles of one's heart. And, here, in the middle of the winter, most of us would appreciate an occasional cockle warming. Here are a couple of our favorite local romantic restaurants.

Lola's Farmhouse Bistro

1840 Manakin Road, Manakin Sabot; 804-784-2000

"Built in 1865, this old farmhouse is definitely unique," says Marianne Hess. She and her husband Eric own and operate Lola's. "The rooms are intimate, with fireplaces and character," she adds.

Marianne says that not only will the house/restaurant be decorated for Valentine's Day, but so will the igloos. The igloos allow lovers of Lola's patio to enjoy that setting year round. Lola's will be offering a special Valentine's Day menu and that includes some romantic cocktails. Love potions?

Chocolates Anyone? Chocolate lovers will want to save room for either Lola's "Messy Brownie" with ice cream or their Chocolate Sundae with Cotton Candy.

Love is in the Air: Lola's offers such a romantic setting that it was the site of Marianne's and Eric's wedding.

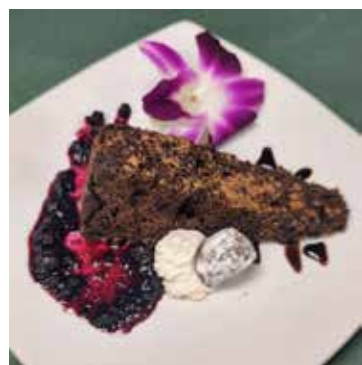

Madeline Hickey displays Lola's Messy Brownie and Chocolate Sundae

Hanover Tavern

13181 Hanover Courthouse Road, Hanover; 804-537-505

Make your romantic night one of historic proportions at Hanover Tavern. This well-known

landmark has been operating since 1733. And has undoubtedly hosted many a young suitor's pursuit of a romantic meal with his special someone.

This year, says Brooke Adams, Associate Director at the facility, "We have two events built around Valentine's Day and romance." On February 12, patrons are invited to celebrate L'amour et le Vin" with a 4-Course Wine Pairing Dinner. And on the next two evenings (February 13 and 14), the Tavern will be offering their "Pleasures Prove" special sweethearts menu. Enjoy an elegant three-course meal including your choice of appetizer, entrée, and dessert. Reservations are required for both.

Chocolates Anyone? By press time, Chef Mary Catherine Ortolan had not made a final dessert decision, but she promises some chocolate decadence.

Love is in the Air: It may inspire you to know that Patrick Henry fell in love and eventually married the Tavern owner's daughter, here. Imagine Henry, in his role as bartender at the Tavern, catching his first glimpse of the young Sarah Shelton, whom he married when she was 16.

The Power of Print

Nobody reads print anymore. You've heard it said, but do you believe it? Obviously not. You're reading print at this very moment. And the truth is, everybody reads print! Whether it's the back of a cereal box or the attention-grabbing headlines on the People Magazine you see while waiting in the grocery store checkout line, we all read print.

The Heritage Rivers Monthly is read by tens of thousands of area residents each month. You see, the truth is print works. For over 5,000 years folks have been responding to this medium. In fact, the first known print ad goes back to a promotion for a weaver's shop discovered on Egyptian papyrus dating back to about 3,000 BC.

What a history print advertising has. Just imagine some marketing executive in the mid 1400s saying, "Hey, let's give Johannes Gutenberg's new-fangled movable-type printing press a chance." And they did - with posters, handbills, and flyers.

The 19th century saw print advertising boom alongside the Industrial Revolution. Magazines and newspapers flourished. This "Golden Age" solidified print as the primary medium for building national brand identities.

Has the digital age killed print? Hardly.

Today, direct mail is seeing a resurgence. You can take advantage of direct mail's ability to target your prospective customer. Here in Southern Chesterfield, both through magazines and other periodicals, which are directly mailed into the home, ACI has been proving to our clients - small and large area businesses - that nothing offers the impact, the personal reach, and the success of print advertising.

While the world wide web offers many valuable features, hyper-local content is not one of them. A recent online search for best breakfast spots in Southern Chesterfield, included suggested restaurants from Richmond's Fan district, to Short Pump, to Petersburg.

The Heritage Rivers Monthly gives you the opportunity to reach your neighbors. It provides content that typically focuses on local personalities, upcoming events, attractions, and businesses. It's read and enjoyed by your prospective customers. Many tell us they eagerly await each month for our articles, our recipes, our calendar of events, and, yes, to hear what our local advertisers have to offer them.

Being the biggest, brightest item in the mailbox, your business will be seen.

Together we can make a difference.

Triple Chocolate Brownies

Oh, the possibilities! Who doesn't enjoy a decadent chocolate dessert or beverage? Chocolate as we know it first appeared in the 19th century and we have been enjoying it ever since. This triple chocolate brownie recipe (using cocoa powder, milk chocolate, and dark chocolate) topped with a quick and easy chocolate sauce is sweet and rich and goes great with a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Cindy

BROWNIES

INGREDIENTS:

- ¾ cup butter, melted
- ¾ cup brown sugar
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 tbsp vanilla extract
- ¾ cup cocoa powder
- ¼ tsp salt
- ½ cup + 2 tbsp all-purpose flour
- ½ cup milk chocolate chips
- ½ cup dark chocolate chips

DIRECTIONS:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Whisk together melted butter and both sugars in a large mixing bowl, whisking until it resembles a paste. Add eggs and vanilla and whisk again. Add cocoa powder, salt, and flour to bowl and mix until just combined. Stir in all chocolate. Pour the batter into a greased 8x8 pan and cook for 30-40 minutes.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE

INGREDIENTS:

- ½ cup milk
- 2/3 cup cocoa powder
- 1 ½ cup sugar
- ¼ tsp salt
- 4 tbsp butter
- 2 tsp vanilla

DIRECTIONS:

Combine milk, cocoa, sugar, and salt in a saucepan. Boil for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add butter and vanilla. Pour over brownies while still warm. Let brownies and chocolate cool, then enjoy!
