An Early Spring Gardener's State of Mind

by Kim Amboy

Now that March has finally rolled around, Virginia's Green Thumbers are jonesing to get outside, enjoy the warmth of spring, and get their hands back in the dirt. While it's too soon to plant this year's garden, late February/early March is transition time—time to get into the gardening mindset. While my thumb isn't even remotely green (more like chartreuse), I've learned from my own research and visiting a local gardening guru that there are plenty of things to do to make the time go by quickly.

Garden Prep & Planning

It's a good time to review last year's garden: What worked? What didn't? If pests or disease were a problem, it might be a good idea to plan a crop rotation to minimize the hassle. Also, clean pots and seed trays with a mild bleach solution to prevent disease.

While you're in the planning mode, it's also time to buy or order this year's seeds, because popular varieties sell out quickly.

Pruners, shovels, and mower blades will need a good cleaning and sharpening to be ready when you need them.

Soil Care

Now is the time to get your soil tested (especially if you haven't in a few years). Virginia Cooperative Extension offers affordable testing. And, if the soil is workable, amend it with well-rotted manure or compost. And speaking of compost, try to minimize weed seeds in the pile...you'll save yourself a lot of work in the growing season to come. >>>

Perennials, Trees, Shrubs & Pruning

It's pruning time! Trim fruit trees (apple, pear, peach), and roses before new growth starts, but don't prune spring-flowering shrubs like azalea, forsythia, or lilac—they already have buds. Keep an eye out for winter damage and remove any broken branches. Also, take this time to divide perennials such as daylilies and hostas if the soil is workable.

Early Planting (Weather Permitting)

Start your vegetable and herb seedlings indoors to give them a headstart—tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, and herbs like basil and parsley. I learned the hard way that window light doesn't produce the best results, and my seedlings were terribly "leggy". Consider purchasing a full spectrum plant light for optimal seedling growth. The garden center at your local Southern States will have everything needed to get you growing.

Yes, fellow garden enthusiasts, it might still be cold outside, but that doesn't mean we can't roll up our sleeves this month and start preparing for the upcoming growing season. May your harvest be bountiful!

Jamestown and Surrounding Areas in Springtime—History in Early Bloom

by Kim Amboy

Finally! Winter's fading away and milder temperatures are at last upon us. Time to get out and about and enjoy some of our interesting and educational destinations. Consider making a springtime visit to Jamestown Settlement and enjoy the evolving landscape overlooking the scenic James River. Dogwood and redbud trees are beginning to bloom, and colorful tulips are starting to brighten the island's footpaths. What a nice setting to immerse yourself in history for a day, while walking the grounds or exploring the exhibits.

The original 1607 settlement is particularly engaging at this time of year, as ongoing digs may be visible, and interpreters are often out sharing new discoveries. Visitors can walk the remains of the fort, see artifacts being uncovered, and gain a deeper appreciation for the hardships and determination of the early colonists. The surrounding environment is quieter in spring, everything is greening up and alive with birdsong. If you close your eyes, it isn't hard to imagine what the settlers themselves may have experienced centuries ago.

A Living History Experience

My husband and I particularly love to visit the Jamestown glasshouse. It is so thrilling to see several artisans in action as they enthusiastically explain the history of the craft while simultaneously creating beautiful items right before your eyes.

On our last visit, one such artisan, Quave (Kwa-vay), kindly fielded all my questions as she skillfully worked red molten glass into a pretty, vase-like piece. She told me her personal glassmaking journey was quite unintentional and began in college where she majored in photography and took glassmaking as an elective. She was hooked and has been honing her skills for several years now. And for anyone interested in learning the craft, she mentioned VCU has an amazing glassblowing program. Quave and all her colleagues at the Glasshouse are very happy to share what they know. Of course, after watching the process, we also bought a few hand-blown pieces made on site from the connected store and display area.

And no trip to Jamestown in spring is complete without also exploring surrounding Colonial Williamsburg and Yorktown areas (the historic triangle).

Why It's Worth a Springtime Visit

Let's face it, Jamestown is a popular destination, but springtime generally sees fewer tourists than summer, allowing for a more personal and unhurried experience... making it easier to ask questions and engage with staff. It's the perfect time and setting to step back in time and discover where America's story began.

VEGETARIAN CHILI

What's better than a steaming bowl of chili to warm up on a chilly winter evening? This particular vegetarian chili recipe has been in Suzanne's family for over 35 years. It all started on one of the very first dates she had with her now husband, Elliott. He was not too sure about vegetarian chili, but would do anything for a date with Suzanne. They enjoyed a bowl at Grace Place in downtown Richmond and after its closing, she was on a quest to find her own recipe. We hope you enjoy at as much as they have over the years! Cindy

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 28 oz cans whole tomatoes in tomato juice
- 1 or 2 onions (sweet or Vidalia), diced
- 1 green bell pepper, diced
- 1 red bell pepper, diced
- 1 yellow or orange pepper, diced
- 2-3 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 large carrots, grated
- ½ can cashews
- ½ cup raisins
- 1 tbsp honey
- 1-2 tbsp chili powder
- 1-2 tbsp cumin
- 1 tbsp basil leaves
- 1 can pinto beans, drained
- 1 can black beans, drained
- 1 can kidney beans, drained
- 1 tbsp olive oil
- Cheddar cheese, grated, for garnish
- Sour cream, for garnish

DIRECTIONS:

Sauté onions, peppers, carrots, and garlic in olive oil. Add chili powder, cumin, and basil, then canned tomatoes. Heat, then add drained beans. Stir in cashews, raisins, and honey. Simmer 15-25 minutes until raisins puff up. Serve with grated cheddar and sour cream.
