“S” is for Sandwich (With Extra Cheese)

by Kim Amboy

Here's a classic bit of poetry to rival even Shakespeare: "S" is for sandwich, a staple for lunch. But you can eat one anytime—for breakfast or brunch! From Grilled Cheese to tuna, Reuben to sub, We all have our favorite...It's good, hearty grub.

Ok, it's obvious Shakespeare has nothing to worry about, but it's likely that few will disagree with the sentiment included. There are so many different sandwich varieties and so little time! Let's see...open faced with gravy, pita stuffed with avocado salad, olive and cream cheese on toasted wheat bread...the list goes on for miles!

Most folks agree that part of what makes sandwiches so good is their convenience. They're portable, customizable, and easy to eat without utensils. Enter an interesting bit of history: the concept of putting fillings in bread is ancient, but the term "sandwich" and its modern popular form come from 18th century England. For those readers who haven't already heard the story, in 1762 John Montagu, the 4th Earl of Sandwich was such a dedicated gambler that he requested meat tucked between bread so he could eat with one hand without leaving the card table. Soon his gambling companions were asking to have "the same as Sandwich", and quick meals have never been the same.

While it's true, I'm not a great poet, I do know a good sandwich when I taste one. See if you don't agree by visiting any or all the following eateries. Bon Appetit!

CRISPY POTATO CHIPS

Potatoes in any form are the ultimate side dish, but these homemade potato chips are salty, crunchy, and just hit the spot. We made ours with the basics: salt, pepper and olive oil, but they are easy to customize. Old Bay seasoning, fresh rosemary, or smoked paprika are some great additions. These are perfect for a quick and easy side dish all year long. Cindy

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 russet potatoes
- Olive oil
- Salt and pepper

DIRECTIONS:

Preheat oven to 400 degrees (you can also easily make these in an air fryer or toaster oven). Slice the potatoes to your desired thickness. Cover both sides of each chip with olive oil and your desired seasonings. Place them on a sheet pan without overlapping. Bake for 10-15 minutes, flipping halfway through. Enjoy while hot and fresh and with your favorite dipping sauce.
