If you are one of many who enjoy winter temperatures and snow, ice skating may be just your forte. Ice skating in Virginia can be traced back to the 1700s where outdoor enthusiasts enjoyed the fresh open air and the magic of an evening sky. As the love of ice skating grew in popularity, indoor arenas became more desirable, thus prompting the introduction of indoor rinks. No matter what the temperature outside, you can still skate on ice and find a few pop-up outdoor areas during the holiday winter months.

However, for those who want the adrenaline of year-round skating, our local indoor rinks provide access to figure skating, hockey and recreational gliding all year long.

Our first indoor facility is RICHMOND ICE ZONE (formerly known as Richmond Ice Forum), located at 636 Johnston Willis Dr., North Chesterfield. It has been operating for over three decades and offers public skating sessions, figure skating classes, speed skating, and youth or adult ice hockey leagues or clinics. The arena features two regulation-size ice surfaces to accommodate simultaneous practices, lessons, and public sessions.

Their sister rink, SKATENATION PLUS, located at 4350 Pouncey Tract Rd., Glen Allen, offers public skating sessions, figure skating, ice hockey leagues and clinics, skating lessons and group rentals. Visitors can also

To help burn more winter energy, head over to our most recent rink, RICHMOND ICE BOX, located at 13100 Tredegar Lake Pkwy., Midlothian. The facility brings a new era of ice sports through community events, recreation and a full range of competitive fun. They have a regulation-size ice rink suitable for hockey, figure skating, public skating, and fun experiences for skaters and players of all ages and skill levels, from beginners to elite competitors. Skate rentals are available for youths and adults. For your next party or group event, consider their multipurpose/event room.

Whether you want to learn, compete, or just do some recreational ice skating, there are plenty of indoor local facilities offering a convenient environment for winter sports without the harsh outdoor weather. So, fuel your desire to glide across the ice with a cool breeze all year long by visiting one of our local rinks.

Let's Go: Way Out West in Payson —the Heart of Arizona

by Kim Amboy

Imagine visiting a place where alpine air is fresh, clean, and untainted by urban pollution. With the day waning and a long hike at an end, you find yourself standing high up on a rocky ledge. From this elevated perch and set against the backdrop of a brilliant sunset lies a truly vast evergreen valley rolling out below you as far as the eye can see. Daylight fades, and the night sky begins to dazzle and twinkle overhead. For some reason, the stars seem closer—as if you could reach up and touch them. In the darkness, whispering sounds of towering pines jostle and sway above you, while distant cries of coyotes waft up from below. An elk bugles a good distance away...deer rustle through the brush nearby. And amidst this moment of peaceful grandeur, you realize how very small you are--no bigger than a tiny speck of dust in such a magnificent setting. For just a moment, it all takes your breath away. Could this be paradise? No...This is the heart of Arizona.

The lofty 8000-foot elevation described above is part of a unique geological feature known as the Mogollon Rim (pronounced mow-gee-on), one of the longest escarpments on Earth. It stretches about 200 miles across northeastern Arizona, from Flagstaff to the New Mexico border, presiding over abundant wildlife and a scenic landscape that includes astonishing beauty and a handful of hospitable towns offering comfortable lodging and great dining opportunities during your visit.

Begin your high-country adventure in Payson, Arizona, the "Gateway to Rim Country." At 5,000 feet and tucked into the base of the rim, take the beautiful 90-minute drive up from Phoenix Sky Harbor Airport via State Route 87 (the Beeline Highway). With Payson as your base, you can easily reach scenic pine-forest drives, mountain lakes, and standout hiking trails, including the rugged route beneath the world's largest natural travertine bridge at nearby Tonto Natural Bridge State Park. For dining, locals recommend Duza's Kitchen — 703 W Main St. This out-of-the-way spot has excellent food, ambiance, and eclectic decor. Another nearby favorite is Old Country Inn — 3502 AZ-87, Pine, Arizona — known for wood-fired pizza, live patio music, and views of wild elk.

For those who aren't the hiking type, here's an interesting Payson connection: western author Zane Grey lived, wrote, and set many of his novels in the area. Fans of his work—and anyone interested in Western history—can explore the region's past at the Rim Country Museum and Zane Grey Cabin, located at 700 S. Green Valley Parkway in Payson, AZ. To add to its Western heritage, Payson is also known as the home of the World's Oldest Continuous Rodeo, held annually every August.

There are many wonderful places to visit on this green earth, and Arizona's Rim Country is truly one of them. For your next getaway, consider enjoying the intoxicating views, wildlife, and fresh air of paradise in the American southwest. Prepare to be amazed!
