Transform Your Old Cabinets Into a Thing of Beauty the Miracle Method Way

by Steve Cook

Refinish. Don't replace. For nearly two decades the folks at Miracle Method Surface Refinishing of Richmond have been touting the benefits of refinishing bathrooms and kitchens throughout Central Virginia. Their professional staff has been proving to satisfied homeowners that refinishing saves both time and money. Plus, the results of their superior process are absolutely beautiful.

But did you know that the same company that has beautifully transformed tubs, showers, and countertops can also refinish your cabinets as well? "We've been refinishing cabinets for ten plus years," says Elizabeth Dowdy, co-owner of Miracle Method of Richmond. But in order to create more visibility, Miracle Method has just launched an exclusive cabinet website - CabinetsByMiracleMethod.com.

Now, you may be thinking that you know of a local painter who will come by and give your old cabinets a new paint job. However, rest assured, we are not talking about just splashing some new paint on your cabinets. "We strip, prep, repair, and apply multiple layers of professional-grade coating directly to your existing cabinets. The result is a smooth, factory-quality finish that can make cabinets that are decades old look completely brand new," says Elizabeth, who adds, >>>

“And for a more dramatic upgrade, doors and drawers can be replaced with a new, modern-style design...So many options!”

Miracle Method Surface Refinishing has been offering miraculous makeovers for nearly five decades, with the locally owned office here in Richmond for 17 years. With their cabinet makeover solutions you can transform your kitchen in just a few days. You’re not just saving time. You’re saving money, as well. Their expert process can save you up to 70% compared to what you’d spend to have a full cabinet replacement.

Their factory-grade finishes are designed for durability and their work is backed by their years of expertise. Typical DIY paint jobs will soon chip and fade. That’s not the case when Miracle Method refinishes your cabinets. They’ll look beautiful for many years to come.

Another huge advantage of having Miracle Method refinish your tubs, showers, countertops, and cabinets is that there’s no unsightly, inconvenient demolition. Your fixtures stay in place while Miracle Method’s expert team magically transforms your kitchen or bathroom into a new beautiful space. “Our technicians take pride in their work and it truly shows,” Elizabeth says.

Check out the beautiful before-and-after images on their new website. Or visit their showroom from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday (or by appointment) to see results first hand. They’re located at 2410 Granite Ridge Road in Rockville, just five minutes west of Short Pump.

Miracle Method is perfect for residential as well as commercial refinishing. “We’re a natural resource for Amtrak, Kings Dominion and local universities, including VCU, UR, Randolph-Macon, Hampden-Sydney and VSU plus hotels, such as Hyatt, Hilton, and Marriott,” Elizabeth says.

To learn more, visit online CabinetsByMiracleMethod.com. or phone 1-804-749-8990. Be sure to ask about their free estimates and design services.

Preparing for a Possible “Historic” Winter

According to the NOAA, “During the October-December 2026 season, there is a 69% chance of a historic [El Niño] event that would exceed the strength of previous El Niño events dating back to 1950.” I don’t know about you, but when I hear that, I think: It’s time to be proactive and get ahead of this potentially “historic” winter.

What are some concerns? And what can we do to mitigate the risk of dangerous or expensive outcomes?

The concern: Freezing Temperatures

- HVAC. You don’t want to discover a heating problem on the first really cold night of the season. Schedule routine HVAC maintenance and dryer vent cleaning now to help prevent winter breakdowns and improve efficiency.
- Chimneys. A pre-season cleaning will not only keep your family safe from dangerous air quality and fire hazards from buildup, but can also reduce your wood consumption and extend your chimney’s life.
- Windows & Doors. Fixing leaky windows and doors can lower your heating costs and the strain on your HVAC system.
- Septic Systems & Wells. Autumn is a good time for septic maintenance or inspections since the ground is still workable. If you have a private well, consider having your water quality checked and confirm pipes and other components are prepared for freezing temperatures.
- Trees. Have dead, damaged, or potentially dangerous trees near your home, driveway, or walkways inspected and removed before winter storms arrive.

The concern: Mold & Moisture

- Roof and Gutters. Roofs can have years of buildup of algae, fungus, and moss, creating a warm home for mold. Clogged gutters encourage mold growth and can even cause leaks and foundation issues. Getting your roof and gutters cleaned, along with the installation of gutter guards, can deter mold growth in your home and prevent water damage.
- Crawlspace or Basement. Dark, damp areas beneath and inside our homes can become breeding grounds for mold. Proper sealing, drainage, and moisture control can help keep your home drier and more comfortable.

The concern: Leaving Home

- Driveways. Safe access into and out of your home is important for your family, guests, and emergency responders. Address potholes, drainage problems, uneven surfaces, and other hazards before they’re covered by snow or ice.
- Vehicles. Winter weather can be tough on our vehicles. Tires with low tread significantly increase the risk of accidents. Regular maintenance and a seasonal tune-up can keep you and others on the road safe.

We certainly don’t want to imagine the worst-case scenario, but being prepared doesn’t mean expecting the worst. It simply means giving ourselves a better chance of handling whatever winter brings. A little preparation now may come with some up-front expense, but the peace of mind and the money saved by avoiding a major repair or emergency can make it well worth the effort.
